

The Fireside series Cabin

Our Fireside Cabin Series is a perfect blend between our Trapper Cabin Series and the Northwoods Cabin Series. This ranch style cabin features a double crowns nest dormer, creating a great space for the kids to hang out, adding storage space or extra bunk space. With an open, customizable floor plan, you can create your dream living environment.

This series is available as a one or two-bedroom cabin, with an optional full bathroom and kitchenette.

These cabins are available from 10' to 16' widths, and up to 48' long. Our cabins are built to last starting with the 4"x6" treated floor joists, topped with a layer of exterior grade $\frac{3}{4}$ " plywood, 1" rigid foam, another layer of $\frac{3}{4}$ " interior grade plywood, followed by the tongue and groove flooring. Our walls are 100% solid Eastern White Pine Logs which we locally source then send through our milling and drying processes. On top of the full log walls, we set our 3"x5" timber rafters and 4"x8" ridge beam, top that with 1"x8" tongue and groove pine to add that beautiful wood cathedral ceiling. Next we add 1½" rigid foam insulation in between 2"x4" roof purlins, another layer of insulation in the way of a bubble wrap underlayment which also creates a waterproof vapor barrier, and then we top it with a 40 year metal roof.

On the inside, you choose log or rustic timber rails and trim. You also choose your finish stain colors. We build your cabin in our manufacturing facility and ship it out to your prepared location. Upon delivery, we set the cabin on your foundation, check operation, then you or your local contractor can make any necessary utility hook-ups. Your new cabin will come with a Cabin Owners Manual to ensure a proper set-up and care for your cabin, and a maintenance checklist to ensure you can enjoy your cabin for many years to come.

All of our cabins are created for the unique needs of our customers, so always ask about customization options you are seeking.
